ISAPA2025, under the patronage of UNESCO, is working to advance the Paris 2024 Call to Action for Disability Sport launched at the Paralympic Games in Paris. This pan-disability conference welcomes exhibitors of products and services, organisations, and NGOs to showcase their innovations to a global audience.

- Networking opportunities with over 600 delegates and visitors
- Access to purchasing power and distribution channels across five continents
- Exciting exhibitor opportunities with increased exhibitor visibility (online and in-person)
- Educational opportunities for your team from global experts
- Join the APA family and friends through our social, cultural and activity program

More than 1.3 Billion people, over 15% of the world's population, live with disability. Yet disability inclusion as a social movement is often misunderstood, overlooked and underfunded. Persons with disabilities face many structural, educational, financial, environmental and attitudinal barriers that hinder their full and equal participation in society.

CALL FOR EXHIBITS

Two successful biennial international conferences in adapted physical activity are coming together as one under the patronage of UNESCO and organised by the UNESCO Chair, MTU Kerry, Ireland. The pan disability conference covers all areas of disability. Up to 600 delegates are expected from academia, international organisations, government and local government, civil society, and the private sector come together to learn about and share developments relevant to adapted physical activity. Our trade exhibition will be very much part of the ISAPA2025 delegate experience. We will ensure exhibitors can engage with delegates across the week. Up to 60 exhibitors, will showcase innovations, products and services to advance the field of APA.
